

To thank Veronica, Nicholas went to the library with her. The minute they got there, she dove straight for the shelves and chose a stack of books.

Hugging her pile, she asked Nicholas, "Aren't you getting any?"
"No!" said Nicholas. "I'm tired of reading books that tell me how to do this, how to do that... how not to do this, how not to do that..."

