

Soon Mr. Nakamura had built a strong new door, a bright new sign, flower boxes, straight shelves and a shiny glass case.

Eve and her parents arranged all the jars, salads, breads, chicken soup and rugelach so customers could see each one.