

We pass someone walking a dog. "Can't keep up with your big sister, eh?"

"That's not my sister," I call. "That's my sibling."

Tessa slows down so we can bike side by side.