The image shows a cotton field under a blue sky. In the foreground, there are several large, cylindrical cotton bales wrapped in green plastic with white bands. In the background, a green cotton harvester is working in the field. Six empty rounded rectangular boxes are arranged around the image. Three boxes are at the top, and three are at the bottom. Arrows point from the top-left box to the cotton field, from the top-middle box to the harvester, and from the top-right box to the harvester's mechanism. Arrows also point from the bottom-left box to the cotton bales, from the bottom-middle box to the harvester, and from the bottom-right box to the end of a cotton bale.
