A large photograph shows several green, bumpy chayote fruits hanging from a vine on a wooden trellis. The leaves are large and green. An inset photograph in the bottom-left corner shows a white plate with a cooked dish of chayote and meat. Five empty, rounded rectangular boxes are placed around the main image, with lines connecting them to specific parts of the plant or the inset dish. Two boxes are at the top, one on the left and one on the right. Three boxes are at the bottom, one on the left, one in the center, and one on the right. Arrows point from the top-left box to a leaf, from the top-right box to a vine, from the bottom-left box to the inset dish, from the bottom-center box to a stem, and from the bottom-right box to a fruit.
